Road Directions

From Fort Cochin: We recommend you use the Beach Road between Fort Cochin and Mararikulam, which is a much more scenic way to reach Marari, avoiding the National Highway. You will enjoy the scenery of coastal village life, fishing harbors, authentic Chinese fishing nets, backwaters and a colorful assortment of churches and temples along the way.

From Cochin/Ernakulam or The Airport: Take NH 47 (Cochin-Trivandrum) towards Alleppey. Turn right 1 km after 'SL Puram' junction towards Mararikulam and continue straight for 3km towards the beach. You will pass a railway crossing at Mararikulam Railway Station, followed by the Mararikulam temple, and the village centre before you reach Marari Junction (crossing the beach road). Turn left at the cross roads and follow the signs on the road to 'Beach at Pollethai'. You will pass Marari Beach Resort and Abad Turtle Beach Resort before you reach the village of 'Pollethai'. Turn right after the bridge at the 'Beach at Pollethai' sign. Follow the road along the canal and we are on the right side after the small bridge and before 'Beach at Pollethai' resort.

From Trivandrum or Alleppey: Go North along NH47 towards Cochin. Turn left at Kalavoor Junction (15km north of Alleppey) towards the beach. After 3.5 km you will reach the Beach Road junction at Kathoor village. Turn right towards Mararikulam and continue straight for 1.5km until you reach Pollethai village. Turn left at the sign for 'Beach at Pollethai' just before the bridge. Follow the road along the canal and we are on the right side after the small bridge and before 'Beach at Pollethai' resort.
